SUPPLEMENT TO 25X1X
REPORT NO.

1. The factory is in the town center [REDACTED] 00°E/60°05'N), Leningrad Oblast, between the Leningrad-Vipuri road and railroad line, northeast of the railroad station, west of a small lake.
2. The war damaged plant was reconstructed and essentially enlarged after the war. Production was resumed in 1947 but reconditioning continued until 1948. Most buildings were stone structures. The plant had a railroad connection and a small power plant. The major power supply came from the Vipuri Power Plant. *
3. The work force was composed of 3,000 civilian laborers, including about 2,000 women working three shifts, and 1,000 PWs working one shift on constructions.
4. Steel and special steel drills in various sizes, files for wood and iron, milling heads, cog wheels, solid iron wheels, and parts for garden fences were produced. The products were packed in boxes, loaded on trucks and shipped to Leningrad. As the work was not good there were two railroad car loads of waste each month. **

- 25X1A * [REDACTED] Comment: For plant layout see Annex.
- ** [REDACTED] Comment: The report gives the latest information on the plant with production details. The plant location between the Vipuri line and a small lake is correct. The plant layout with the many small buildings contradicts all previous information except for the route of the small brook through the northeastern plant section and the small power plant corresponding to an older reproduction.
Additional information is required to determine the factual plant layout.
